Emojis and social media

Emojis enhance just about any user experience. They always have a place, from casual social media use to top level inbound marketing strategies.

It doesn't matter if you're part of a design team communicating with a different department, a social media manager for your business, or anything in between. Emojis help convey tone and intent, both of which are frequently lost in translation when communicating online.

There are now entire generations that grew up and are growing up with emojis as a given. Emojis are no longer stylistic extras that you can ignore, but instead are an integral part of how many online users communicate every single day. Spend a few minutes clicking around Facebook or Twitter if you're still skeptical! You won't be able to scroll more than a page without seeing emojis aplenty.

So next time you're considering a social media overhaul or searching for a brand new angle with your online marketing campaigns, find the perfect emoji here on our emoji cheat sheet!
